

Decent People, Decent Company

---

In the News

Bob and Lyn Turknett's book, Decent People, Decent Company, was featured in a review in the September 2005 issue of the professional development magazine Training. The book was recommended as a "buy," and the reviewer noted that "You can bet I'm passing this one onto my colleague for sure. The focus of the book is the workplace, but the concepts are "24-hour principles" that apply to your whole life."

